

From: BOB JONES
To: Columbia River Crossing;
CC:
Subject: concerned, where will I be living next year?
Date: Wednesday, June 25, 2008 2:22:12 PM
Attachments:

Living next to the bridge I had my property appraised and found that my property value has dropped 25% due to the bridge controversy. I'm at retirement age and was expending to live my golden years here on the river. But the huge traffic congestion mounting daily due to increased road traffic and the never ending bridge lifts due to river traffic or maintenance is unreal. So what's taking so long to make some sort of a decision? It's so obvious that a new bridge is needed and the old one is an expensive river hazard. So where is the $ come from? don't we pay fuel tax every time we fuel up? At this present time I can neather sell or retire...

