I believe that only a supplemental bridge for light rail and bikes/pedestrians should be built.

Monies should be used to encourage mass transit options only.

Encouraging suburban sprawl does nothing to help our societies unhealthy dependance on foreign oil.

I believe that a great deal of the people that have moved to that area do not consider public transit or carpooling options because they have been able to get by driving to and fro cheeply.

And I am absolutely against taxpayers footing the bill those that have choosen to commute to Portland from Washington.

They have choosen to support the suburban lifestyle, and I do not believe that we should follow suit by making their commute easier.
