This email is in my response to the Columbia River Crossing proposals.

As a North Portland resident, I am opposed to any plan that encourages automotive traffic, does not include light rail, and does not include a toll. I am also opposed to any plan where the State of Washington does not share 50% of the cost.

The solution must include a long-term plan to pay for the project (ie a toll), a means to discourage automotive transportation (ie again toll, lightrail, pedestrian/bike paths and minimal car lane increase), be environmentally concious and maintain 1-5 and Columbia river shipping needs.

I would also support a plan to add a toll immediately to the present bridge to create revenue to pay for a better researched solution.

Sincerely,

Jamie M. Caulley
