Dear Paul Krueger,

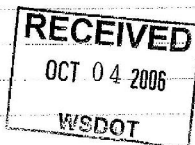

10/3/06

I recently moved to Seattle to be near my daughter, and since I am a healthy 85 year old and still driving, I enthusiastically support the Pacific St. Interchange option for SR 520 and I oppose all other DEIS alternatives. When I can no longer use my car, I expect to use light rail and buses which will link to this interchange at the UW. It simply makes sense, plus it enhances the environment and would give the area a beautiful Union Bay Bridge.

Seattle is a star city. It needs to move into the new century, transportation-wise, instead of being mired in concrete and stalled traffic.

Sincerely,

Peggy Anderson
