Subject: Sculpture by Max Gurvich

Recently I learned that the two multicolored metal devices at the west end of the SR520 bridge are sculptures by Max Gurvich. As I frequently drove by them I assumed they provided some mechanical function and never would have guessed that the devices were artwork. I hope that tax money wasn't spent to buy them and that no tax money will be spent on them in the future. I strongly recommend they be given back to Mr. Gurvich or otherwise disposed of when they are removed during the coming bridge construction.

The Gurvich sculptures were given to the State by Mr. Gurvich at no expense to the State. The sculptures will be removed for project construction activities and will not be returned to the pedestals.
