To whom it may concern:

P-0478-001 I read in this morning's Oregonian that three councilors oppose the immediate construction of a new span crossing the Columbia River, instead favoring a toll that will cut congestion, raise revenues for necessary upgrades, and provide the time needed to gather additional information regarding the Columbia Crossing project. Thank you to these councilors for their sound judgement and insightful stance; they have my full support.

Modeling has indicated that tolling I-5 without making the improvements that are part of the CRC project would not meet the project's Purpose and Need. This does not mean that some form of tolling prior to constructing CRC couldn't be implemented. The ultimate decision on any tolling options will be made by both the Washington and Oregon Transportation Commissions.
