

From: stephenzahm@comcast.net
To: Columbia River Crossing
CC:
Subject: Rapid Transit
Date: Thursday, May 29, 2008 2:34:38 PM
Attachments:

P-0724-001 I own a building on the corner of 22nd and Broadway and work as a psychologist, along with five other doctors in this building. I think that light rail going in one direction would be fine, but rapid transit going both North and South would not be a fair deal to the businesses on Broadway. It would be fair to businesses on both Broadway and Main to split the rapid transit between the two streets.

Thank you very much.

Stephen G. Zahm, Ph.D.

P-0724-001

The Clark College transit terminus was chosen by project sponsors as part of the LPA in July 2008, as it was deemed to most effectively balance the cost of the project and the projected community benefits.

RTC's Clark County High Capacity Transit System Study, published in December of 2008, analyzed specific high-capacity transit improvements that could connect with existing and future transit facilities and be extended throughout Clark County To view their Final HCT System Study, visit RTC's website at www.rtc.wa.gov.